COAL SECURED FOR CITY SAVES SHUTTING OFF ELECTRIC POWER

From the four barges that are due to arrive at Allyn's Point on Saturday.

These barges were started for Allyn's Point the day after the Thames river was opened by the Chamber of Commerce as the dealers would not ship coal until they had the assurance that the river was open.

During Thursday morning the Secretary L. M. Crandall was in communication with Secretary J. N. Hammond of the New London chamber, and it was largely through Mr. Hammond's efforts that the P. H. and A. H. Chapell company of that place agreed to come to the assistance of the local plant. The New London company has agreed to let the local plant have 50 tons per day for the next five or six days.

As soon as it had been decided that it would be possible to supply electric power without interruption the commissioners got out telephone notices to all the manufacturing plants and shops that would have been affected by the loss of power. Several of the plants have thrown several hundred employees out of work for the rest of the week had been considerably disturbed at the enforced loss of work for their employees.
